

Theory of Change

Our Mission

We work side-by-side with Western Montanans to improve the health of our communities.

How We Work:

- Grantmaking
- Social Impact Investments
- Coordination & Convening
- Organizational Resilience
- Public Influence
- Community Gathering Space

We invest in:

1 Family Power

Through our Family Power Fund, we support organizations that build leadership and a sense of belonging with families, elevate their voices to policymakers, and create the conditions for meaningful change to happen.

2 Rural Communities

Through our GO! Grants Program, we offer general operating funds to nonprofits promoting health, belonging and leadership for kids and families in rural communities.

3 Tribal Sovereignty

Through our CSKT Partnership Fund, we collaborate with Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribal leaders to support their health goals on the Flathead Reservation.

To contribute to:

Engaged Families

Goal: Parents, caregivers and youth are empowered to change the policies and systems that impact their health.

Strong Organizations

Goal: Nonprofits are equipped to effectively engage youth and families in advocacy to improve health outcomes.

Supportive Ecosystem

Goal: Culture and narratives prioritize the health of families and are receptive to their needs.

Our Vision

We envision a Western Montana where children and families are healthy and strong, communities thrive, and the voices of those most impacted by inequity are heard as they actively engage in shaping solutions for their communities.

Priority Populations

We prioritize families with children (ages 0-18) most impacted by health disparities:

- Families living on low incomes
- Indigenous, Black, and other families of color
- Families living with disabilities, and
- Families who identify as LGBTQ+

Our Values

Honor and build community power.

Build trusting relationships.

Be accountable to our communities.

Learn as we go.

Elevate equity in a trust-based way.

Be transparent in all we do.

Honor tribal sovereignty.
